Director's Note:

No matter if you're an adult or a teenager, a liberal or conservative, or a pessimist or optimist, I believe it's safe to say we live in a very turbulent time in America. There is fighting between friends for differences of thought, pressure that adults put on their children, and what children expect of themselves and their lives. It's important to recognize that we are all different but we can come together when we need each other the most. Although I'm no stranger to the provocative, I never thought the subject matters of this play would become my next fringe show. It was important that I set it in an environment similar to the one I've become accustomed to during the last four years. I'd like to thank my wonderful parents for supporting my ambitions, Jake Goldfarb, Jenna Thurston, Steve Lipinsky, Jeannine Marquie, Kevin Charles Patterson, Jeremy Sewell, Eevie Perez, Jason Maddy, Siobhan Sullivan, The San Diego Fringe Festival, The Lyceum, and my whole cast and crew for your love and support. The world is in a state of fight or flight mode in this modern time, and it makes me happy you came today to see light shed on a subject matter that may impose controversy or confusion. Let's help each other get through, because we're all on the same boat. I hope you enjoy the show.

Sincerely,

Phillip Magin
